Nature & Tranquility footsteps to the harbour

Footsteps from the waterfront in Balmain's last cobblestone street is this incredibly tranquil home that perfectly reflects the historic beauty of the area.

On the market for the first time in 35 years, this architecturally styled home has been lovingly crafted from pieces collected across various periods of Sydney's history.

The interiors are adorned in an incredible display of original leadlight glass, while each room presents a blissful connection to the landscape that surrounds it.

Basking in views across Cameron's Cove and the Anzac Bridge, this unique property provides direct access to the bay for water sports, with harbourside parklands, East Balmain Village, the ferry wharf and schools within metres of the front door.
